(By the Associated Press)

NORTH ANSON, Me., June 19.—Two men and a woman were killed today when a high tension wire crossed a guy wire and electrocuted a horse in the mill yard of the North Anson Manufacturing Company. The dead, all residents of this town, are Mrs. Thomas Moran, Ora Pullen and Warren Nutting.

DELUGE DOES HEAVY DAMAGE IN WESTFIELD

Continuous Rainfall Carries Away Bridges and Water Mains

The deluge of rain, which has continued so steadily for nearly two weeks has been disastrous throughout Northeastern Vermont. The waters of Lake Memphremagog have risen almost to the high water mark of last spring and much of the meadow land with crops is under water.

The towns of Westfield and Troy have been especially devastated; bridges are washed away, roads destroyed and acres of crops are ruined. The loss will reach thousands of dollars.

Five bridges in the town of Westfield and several smaller ones at least one bridge in Troy and seventy-five feet or more of the main water line in Troy which supplies North Troy, which carries away.

The torrents of rain which seemed more like a cloudburst, only it was a continuous one, raised the already swollen brooks in and around Westfield and Troy and acres of ground with their promising crops are submerged. A dam across the Coburn brook burst Sunday morning and the rushing waters carried away the iron bridge across Mill brook, north of the town of Westfield, seventy-five feet or more of the main water line in Troy, which supplies North Troy, which carries away.

The covered bridge has been condemned and a temporary bridge built across the river, Sunday afternoon the covered bridge was wrecked from its foundation and the new temporary one is impossible and not considered safe. This is north of the town near the Electric Light plant.

In this section rain has been falling steadily since Friday night and at intervals all through the early part of the week. Today it was cloudy but no rain fell.

STRONG BARRE TEAM COMING WEDNESDAY

Fairbanks A. A. Will Have Lively Fracas at Campus

With clearing weather on the docket the baseball fans will see some real big league games this week. The season of the Fairbanks A. A. nine is now under way and Manager Charles Hoernle is securing the best teams of this section to battle with his strong lineup.

On Wednesday the Barre city team will evade St. Johnsbury. The game is called for 4:15 P. M. so that those in the shops and stores will have a chance to see the new Fairbanks players in action. Barre will come to town with one of the strongest teams the city has had in years.

It is expected that the renowned "Cuddy" Murphy will be on the mound for this game. Murphy is scheduled as a pal of St. Johnsbury's star pitcher ace, Clarence Vitty, for the season and will pitch alternately with Vitty. Murphy is remembered as a former Dartmouth College star and was on the spring training trip with the Red Sox last season. The "Big Boy" is worth seeing in action and he will give a good account of himself.

Tomorrow the Fairbanks A. A. plays in Lyndonville and on Saturday will have as its opponent the Cleveland Giant, one of the strongest, fastest colored baseball teams in the country.

CONVENT SCHOOLS GRADUATE TWO FINE CLASSES

Diplomas and Prizes Awarded at Interesting Exercises Sunday

The Congregation of Notre Dame and many interested friends enjoyed the successful graduation exercises of the convent schools at the Please U theatre Sunday afternoon and evening. The exercises were well attended by the large and enthusiastic audience present.

At the exercises of the girls' school in the afternoon the program was a very choice and well balanced one and opened with an overture from Rossini by a trio composed of Misses G. Bonin, A. Rancit, and M. E. Lawson.

This was followed by Misses "Les Roseaux Chantiers," by a chorus and the selection "Les Chantiers de la Mer" was exceptionally well rendered. The chorus also rendered the closing number on the program. The piano solo "Impromptu," by Reinhold, by Miss Hommel and the song "Resignation," by Miss Rancit, were most delightful selections. A trio composed of Misses L. Gobeille, Y. Brunelle and O. Hummel rendered the piano selection, "Parfums de Roses," exceptionally well, as did the trio composed of Misses Y. Boucher, U. Lamothe and Dora Fournier the piano selection, "Daisies."

The big number of the afternoon was the presentation of the opera, "The Golden Sickle," with the following cast: Hildegarde, the queen, A. Rancit; Elsa, daughter of the queen, L. Gobeille; Marguerite, niece of the queen, R. Lamothe; Flora, queen of the garden, O. Hommel; Mother Witch Harel, a wise woman, L. J. H. CARPENTER DIES IN HIS BOSTON OFFICE

Former St. J. Resident
Passes Away Suddenly
Saturday Noon

John H. Carpenter died suddenly in his Boston office Saturday noon, aged 73 years. He evidently felt unwell for lying down on a sofa in the office he peacefully passed away.

Mr. Carpenter was born in St. Johnsbury Oct. 27, 1848, being one of nine children of Charles P. Carpenter and Julia Ann (Paddock) Carpenter. He was educated here in the public schools until he was 13 years old when he started out in life for himself, his first work being a newsboy for the Boston papers at the beginning of the Civil war. He covered the entire town in this work and as the demand for the latest war news grew he had several boys under him and nearly 500 papers were sold daily.

Soon after this he entered the dry goods store of N. M. Johnson as clerk. Later he went to Newport and soon after that bought a drug store at Derby Line where he built up a successful business. After a few years he went to Cowansville, P. Q., where he continued in the drug business, remaining there from 1877 to 1884. He was at the same time correspondent for numerous Canadian papers and ticket agent for several of the leading western railroads.

He returned to St. Johnsbury in 1884 and continued for a time in the railroad ticket agent business and other activities, removing to Boston in 1888 where he has since resided, and where he has been active in the manufacture and sale of two much used products.

Mr. Carpenter was married Oct. 27, 1870, at Newport to Nellie J. Rancit, who died about ten years ago. Four children are living: Clinton E. Carpenter of New York city, Mrs. Henry B. Ireland of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. John T. Batchelder of Boston and Mrs. Raymond A. Ward of Portland, Me. He also left two brothers, Willard C. Carpenter of Henniker, N. H., and Rev. Charles M. Carpenter of White River Junction.

The funeral will be private with commitment service at the grave at Mt. Pleasant cemetery Tuesday. Mr. Carpenter was a high strung, emotional, sensitive man, warmly affectionate, imaginative, and keenly alive to the activities of life. He possessed a vital personality as all who knew him can testify. For many years he maintained unflinching cheerfulness, although deafness was a heavy affliction for one of his nature and gifts to have. All who loved him rejoice that he has been spared the loneliness, infirmities and dread of old age—so doubly hard for one of his active temperament to endure.

REV. SCUDDER PREACHES FIRST SERMON HERE

New Pastor Occupies Pulpit at Church of Messiah

The first service of the pastorate of Rev. George Wilson Scudder of the church of the Messiah was held Sunday. The services will be held in the vestry until the repairs to the auditorium are completed. The subject of Mr. Scudder's sermon was "Serving the Christ." The preacher said in part:

"The personality of Jesus, the Christ, is virile and potent in the world, and his influence effects every soul where his name has been heard. Because of this Jesus is a living personality exercising great power in the lives of men and women in the world, and we can give our allegiance to him and serve him."

"To give loyalty to Christ, and serve him, is to take his spirit and his disposition and life and make that the guide and measure of our life in all its relations with our fellowmen and our God."

"To live in our age with the same spirit and disposition that Jesus lived in his age is to do nothing less than to take Jesus as the spiritual authority and leader of the soul; nothing less than accepting Jesus as the Saviour by the winning and revolutionizing force of his divine personality."
